Daylight Newsletter September 2018

At a recent service over seventy prisoners heard a message from Psalm 142 verse 4, where David writes "no man cared for my soul". Many prisoners feel that no one cares about them, so this verse is something they can really identify with.

It was explained to them that we are different from all the rest of creation because we have souls and that there is a man who cares for our souls. Jesus left all the splendour of heaven to come to earth as a baby, because He cares for our souls. He lived on earth, suffered and died, because He cares for our souls.

The prisoners and some of the prison staff listened intently throughout the message and sang enthusiastically as we closed with the hymn In Christ Alone. We were able to speak to and pray with a number of them afterwards and many of them took daily reading booklets and text postcards.

We also gave Bibles to a few prisoners, including Lee who had asked for one at our last service. He was clearly delighted to have it and thanked us, saying, "I've finally got my Bible", whilst hugging it to his chest.

Please pray that these men would remember the message they heard; for those who are already Christians that they would be encouraged as they think about how much their Saviour cares for them and for those who are unbelievers, that they would be challenged to see their need of the One who cares for their souls.

Thank you for your support.
